PARLEY WITH IRISH IS OFF

Lloyd George Calls Off Meeting, but Leaves Door Open.

ONLY ONE ANSWER

Says in Reply He Must Consult With Colleagues — What Irish Stand Means.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The arrangements for the proposed Irish peace conference are canceled, but the negotiations still are not ruptured. That in brief is the story of today's unexpected and surprising developments.

Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, having reaffirmed his claim to enter the conference as the representative of an independent sovereign state, Premier Lloyd George declares that such admission is impossible. He announces the cancellation of the arrangements for a conference and the necessity of his consulting his colleagues on the subject.

The Premier is careful not to close the door to possible resumption of the negotiations. On the contrary, he gives Mr. de Valera and his supporters the amplest time and opportunity to reconsider their position; he describes himself as "laid up" at Gairloch, necessitating a few days' delay. This reference was explained here tonight by the announcement that the Premier is suffering from a chill and that it would be necessary for him to remain indoors for a few days.

Declaring that there was but one answer to a claim which would be equivalent to Great Britain's acknowledging Ireland's right to negotiate a treaty of closer association with "some foreign power," he mildly reproached the Irish people for taking no single step to meet the generous advances of the British Government.

The whole of the letter, in fact, reveals that the Premier still retains hope of some favorable development. Incidentally, the Premier's letter clears up the mystifying events of the last few days, showing that Mr. de Valera's reply was taken by McGrath and Boland to Gairloch, but that the Premier tried unsuccessfully to persuade modification of its tenor and offered to regard it as not having been delivered.

The fact that Mr. de Valera and his colleagues failed to take advantage of this offer is considered an adverse factor and lends a serious aspect to the situation.

The prospect is that there will be no move now from either side for a few days. It is noteworthy that in the final exchanges the traditional diplomatic methods of sending notes by courier were dropped in favor of the more expeditious telegraph lines.

LLOYD GEORGE'S REPLY.

The text of Mr. Lloyd George's reply, which was telegraphed tonight, says:

"I informed your emissaries who came to me here Tuesday that reiteration of your claim to negotiate with His Majesty's Government as the representative of an independent and sovereign state would make a conference between us impossible.

"They brought me a letter from you in which you specifically reaffirm that claim, stating that your nation 'has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state,' and it is only, you added, 'as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have any authority or powers to act on behalf of our people.'

"I asked them to warn you of the very serious effect of such a paragraph and offered to regard the letter as not delivered to me in order that you might have time to reconsider it. Despite this intimation you have now published the letter in its original form. I must accordingly cancel the arrangements for the conference next week at Inverness and must consult my colleagues on the course of action this new situation necessitates. I will communicate this to you as soon as possible, but as I am for the moment laid up here, a few days' delay is inevitable. Meanwhile, I must make it absolutely clear that His Majesty's Government cannot reconsider its position, which I have stated to you.

"If we accepted a conference with your delegates on the formal statement of the claim which you have reaffirmed it would constitute an official recognition by His Majesty's Government of the severance of Ireland from the empire and of its existence as an independent republic.

"It would, moreover, entitle you to declare as of right acknowledged by us that in preference to association with the British empire you would pursue closer association by a treaty with some other foreign power. There is only one answer possible to such a claim as that.

"The great concessions which His Majesty's Government made to the feeling of your people in order to secure a lasting settlement deserved, in

SEEK FIREBUGS

Search Continues By Police To Apprehend Guilty Parties

All efforts made thus far to trace the supposed firebugs responsible for the two fires here last Saturday night which destroyed the warehouses at the plants of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation and the Mutual Ice Company are without result.

The police department has not abandoned hope and every available clew which has been furnished up to the present time has been run down.

Not any of the clews furnished were worth anything say the police. That the arson squad is in hiding and probably may be smoked out later is the opinion of authorities.

Whoever they are they are guilty of setting off two of the most disastrous fires that Alexandria has had in recent years, the loss sustained being close to a quarter of a million of dollars. No stone is being left unturned by the authorities to round up the firebugs.

BANK OFFICIAL KILLED BY MYSTERIOUS YOUTH

Dodge Center, Minn., Sept. 16.—D. T. Rounesville, vice president of the First National Bank of Dodge Center, was shot and instantly killed in the bank late today by a man presumed to be a robber.

A posse was immediately formed and the assailant was captured just outside of town.

Rounesvile was alone in the bank when the youth entered. No one knows what ensued.

In the county jail at Owatonna tonight the prisoner steadfastly refused to talk. He did not steal anything from the bank, apparently fleeing immediately after the shooting. He was seen running from the building, shouting, "I shot him! I shot him!"

A short pursuit ended in the assailant's capture. He refused to answer questions.

Rounesville was temporarily relieving the assistant cashier when he was killed. He was seventy years old and is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter.

STATE NEWS

Winchester.—Many local residents have armed themselves with shotguns and revolvers to protect their homes at night, as a result of a dozen or more robberies committed during the last few nights. Police authorities believe the robberies have been committed by one man, who is being "shadowed." Homes broken into include those of Walter H. Bosserman, Dr. J. A. Richard, Roland T. Bryarly, Charles M. Ebert, G. O. Snapp, Richard B. Griffith, Harry Chrismore, Hunter Brown, Card De Haven and Leonard Sirbaugh.

Richmond.—Clifford H. Holland was brought here last night from Norfolk to answer the charge of stealing an automobile here several months ago. He was found through his efforts to collect the reward offered for the recovery of the machine which was sold in Gadsden, Ala. He claimed that he gave the Richmond police the tip as to where the car could be found. He recently nelisted in the navy and was found stationed at Norfolk. J. Haxton Hill, a young man from Christiansburg, well connected in that section, is already doing a year's time on the roads for being involved in the theft of the same car He pleaded guilty. Holland is said to be from Atlanta.

Petersburg—The South Side Medical Association of Virginia, at its 71st session, Tuesday at Victoria was opened with an address of welcome by W. E. Dungan, mayor of Victoria. The response was by Dr. J. E. Rawles, of Suffolk. Medical subjects were discussed by physicians of Richmond, Staunton and Suffolk. Papers weer read by Dr. C. M. Fredericksburg—Officers of the United States Marine Corps are now engaged in making a survey of the battlefields in the neighborhood of Wilderness Run, Spottsylvania county, a few miles from Fredericksburg, preparatory to the extensive maneuvers to be staged there the last week in this month.

A force of between three and four thousand infantrymen and artillerymen will leave the marine barracks at Quantico September 26 on their march to Spotsylvania. They will pitch camp at a point about midway between Quantico and Fredericksburg on the first night of the expedition, and plan to camp on the outskirts of this city on the second night en route. A suitable number of machine guns, heavy artillery, aeroplanes, searchlights, signals, commissary and quartermaster trucks, etc., will accompany the army on their movement to the old Civil War battlegrounds.

United States Senators and representatives and navy officials will come to Spottsylvania from Washington to witness the gigantic sham battle and bombardments. Military engineers are completing plans to reinforce the bridges along the line of march so as to withstand the weight of the equipment. The heaviest naisances and air bombing battles for guns will be towed by tractors around by the U. S. Ford. After reconabout 7 days the military forces will entrain for Quantico and will camp at this city en route home.

Norfolk, Va.—While police officials weer trying to find NP-1, a police boat that is supposed to patrol the harbor of Norfolk, an unidentified 40-foot craft sailed into the harbor and unloaded a cargo of booze. The whisky craft was sighted while passing the Hampton Roads Naval Base. The booze, or cases in which the booze was stored, was seen from the shore by officials at the base. They immediately communicated with Norfolk police. The identity of the booze craft has not been established, but a completed description of her was given. She is supposed to have obtained the booze from a foreign ship in Hampton Roads.

Fredericksburg, Va.—The tobacco crop in Caroline County is looking fine, but the acreage this year is not over a third of that planted last year There was over 12,000,000 pounds made and sold last year. The estimate this year is a crop of not over 4,000,000, but better prices are looked for. Irish potato crop is short. Early potatoes yielded half a crop. The later crop is more promising. There will be a fair crop of sweet potatoes. The late rains have helped them. Peas and beans are promising Corn is not over half a crop.

Suffolk, Va.—Although the county authorities had good evidence that Dempsey Skeeter, whose arrest was made Saturday along with that of his wife, Lucy Skeeter, was a source of supply of corn whisky and apple brandy to thirsty ones in and near Suffolk, when called to trial yesterday. Lucy Skeeter tried to clear her husband at her own expense. She declared she found the copper stills in the woods, with the worm and other appurtenances, and that her husband had warned her to get rid of them. In spite of this "warning," she said, she had made some cider and when Dempsey was away from home put on the stills and was making apple brandy. Her story aroused the admiration of Justice J. R. Archer, but it didn't go down. Dempsey Skeeter, like Adam of old, corroborated his wife's statement, and said she "did it."

KILLED BY TRAIN TODAY

John W. Monroe Fatally Injured at Compher Station.

TRIED TO BOARD TRAIN

Evidently Missed Footing—News of His Death Received Here at Noon. Coroner's Jury Monday

John W. Monroe, about thirty-five years old, one of Alexandria's best known and most popular residents, was killed about 11:25 o'clock this morning by a Washington and Old Dominion electric train at Compher station, about five miles west of Ashburn station, Loudoun county.

According to reports received here a short time following his death, Mr. Monroe endeavored to board a train and he evidently missed his footing and was thrown beside the tracks. He died instantly. The coroner of that place was notified and is arranging to hold an inquest this afternoon. News of his death was received here about noon.

Mr. Monroe left Alexandria early this morning for a trip to various places in Loudoun county, he being salesman for the firm of Monroe & Monroe, of 214 King street, engaged in the sale of dairy supplies and equipment. He had completed a visit to his customers and was hurrying to catch the first train for home.

Reports received by the Gazette are to the effect that the train consisted of four cars, which were en route to Washington. The train immediately came to a stop and the body was taken to a point nearby and the coroner notified. Mr. Monroe for a number of years was manager of the Alexandria Glass Company of this city, and later he engaged in the grocery business with his father on the east side of Royal, between King and Cameron streets, and recently was associated with his father, John L. Monroe, in the dairy supply and equipment business.

Mr. Monroe is survived by his wife, who was Miss Celeste Milburn and two small children together with his parents and several sisters. He lived at 518 Duke street.

He was a member of the Bachelor Club, Post F, Travelers Protective Association, a member of the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Retail Credit Men's Bureau and a member of the Kiwanis Club.

The deceased enjoyed a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who were shocked upon learning of his death.

Late this afternoon the body was brought here and prepared for burial. The funeral arangements have not been completd.

The body this afternoon was viewed by Dr. W. C. Orr, coroner of Leesburg, Va., together with a jury. The jury was adjourned over by Dr. Orr till 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon when testimony will be heard.

Y. M. C. A. PROGRAM

Courses Are For Women and Girls, It Is Announced.

SMALL FEE FOR SOME

Gymnastics, Home Nursing, Domestic Science, Domestic Art Are Among Things to Be Taught.

Great interest is being manifested in the work which the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. is planning for the coming fall and winter, and the prospects are good for a splendid development along many lines. Last year sewing classes for girls and one gymnastic class for women were conducted under the auspices of the Auxiliary, but realizing that there were still many needs of the women and girls in the community, the Auxiliary has this year set about to fill more of them and to put within the reach of any one desiring to take advantage of broadened opportunities, classes for self improvement along several lines.

It is interesting to recall at this time just how this work of the Auxiliary happened to be innaugurated. A little more than a year ago, at the time of the organization of the local Y. M. C. A., a committee of women was appointed by the board of directors of that organization to assist the association in carrying on any plans for social work which might be undertaken in its community program. These women, so chosen, organized and were useful to the association in many ways. After a time, however, opportunities for special service to girls developed and the result was the organization of the free sewing classes for children, which were conducted so successfully the last half of last season, also the weekly moving picture programs, which were shown free each Saturday for girls. The Auxiliary was very fortunate in securing for this work the assistance of Mrs. Grace Bernard, who has had special training at the National School of Domestic Science and Art in Washington. Under her direction, with the co-operation of several faithful volunteer teachers, the school grew until it became quite a problem to care for all the pupils that attended each week.

This fall this work will be taken up again, and along with other courses, which are described in the following schedule, will be conducted by the Auxiliary, independent of the Y. M. C. A., although it always stands ready to assist that organization in any possible way. Many of the classes are free, others are offered for a charge as small as it is possible to give them. Any small income which might be derived from classes, after paying for the cost of materials used, will be turned into the Auxiliary treasury, to be used in the future extension of the work. In the case of the fees from the women's class in gymnastics, they may be turned over to the Y. M. C. A., as a return courtesy for the services of the general secretary, who serves so ably as the gymnastic Instructor, and used by the Y. M. C. A., as they were last year, for the purchase of permanent physical equipment, which might be used by all in the community who avail themselves of the opportunities for physical training.

Attention is called to the fact that these classes are open to any woman or girl in Alexandria who wishes to apply. It is urged, however, that those desiring to enroll do so as early as possible, that ample time may be allowed for the completion of the necessary arrangements by the Auxiliary. An announcement of these classes made before the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club the other evening was greeted by considerable enthusiasm and resulted in many of the club members signing up for some of the courses. Housekeepers also are showing their special interest in the class in general cookery, which will be taught by Mrs. Bernard.

The courses offered follow:

Gymnastics.

1—For Girl Scouts and other girls over twelve years; course, 15 weeks, free. Mondays, 3:30-4:30 p.m., Young People's Building (probably). Instructor, K. E. Wallace.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 16.—When the American members of the conference on the limitation of armaments and Far Eastern questions meet with the delegates from foreign countries invited to the gathering, they will have in their possession complete data on the cost of the various armies and navies of those nations that are to participate. At the request of Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has a corps of experts at work preparing this data on the cost of armaments of the nations which are to take part in the forthcoming meeting in Washington. These financial experts of the Treasury Department have been given access to all the reports and records in possession of the War and Navy Departments bearing upon the cost of battleship construction together with the yearly outlay for the maintenance of their standing armies.

Statement On Prohibition

"Public sentiment and public sentiment alone will regulate the prohibition question in this country."

This was the statement made to the Gazette correspondent today by David H. Blair, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Mr. Blair pointed out that the force of 2,500 prohibition agents, which includes every enforcement officer attached to the various state prohibition directors, is entirely inadequate to cope with the situation and to put down rum-smuggling and boot-legging.

"But it is my opinion," continued the Commissioner, "that a vast majority of the American people have come to realize that the prohibition law is one to be respected and this feeling will do more than the work of any enforcement officers to put a stop to the illicit selling of intoxicants.

U. S. To Call R. R. Securities

The sale of $7,500,000 worth of railroad equipment trust certificates recently authorized by the President is to be followed by the disposal of other large blocks of such securities within the near future and which are now held by the U. S. Railroad Administration.

These certificates will be sold to New York bankers, who, in turn, will act as distributing agents to other bankers in Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. These equipment trust certificates bear interest at six per cent per annum and mature serially from 1928 to 1935. They will be disposed of at par plus accrued interest.

Unemployment Problem

An early solution of the unemployment problem is looked for by officials of the U. S. government. These officials are now convinced that idleness is not so widespread as was earlier indicated by preliminary figures. A new survey of the labor situation, particularly in industrial centres, indicates that there is now room for optimism that the coming winter will not find the nation with an unemployment situation of any serious character. It is now disclosed that former estimates of the Labor Department, tending to show that 5,735,000 men and women were out of work, were based upon figures showing the number of employes released from industrial plants and manufacturing concerns after the "peak" business of the war period began to recede into the stage of depression. Officials now find that those figures do not accurately reflect the extent of idleness, for they asserted that a surprisingly large percentage of that number went back to the farms or small town pursuits of pre-war days.

Financier To Visit Mexico

State Department officials admitted today that the Department had been informed in advance of the intention of Thomas W. Lamont, of the firm of J. Pierpont Morgan and Company to go to Mexico. Department officials refused to comment further on teh object of Mr. Lamont's visit. It was explained that the object which Mr. Lamont has in mind is the negotiation of private financial arrangements with the Mexican government and it is believed here that the proposed arrangment has something to do with the apparently amicable understanding reached by oil men recently with the Mexican government. It was made plain that the State Department is anxious at this time that financial loans of an international character be submitted to it for approval. It is not the intention of the department to curtail private enterprise but it is held that at the present time the better interests of the United States would be subserved by co-operation between the State Department and private interests.

BABE BREAKS RECORD

In the game with St. Louis yesterday Babe Ruth smashed all records in home runs. He bettered his last year's record by one when he knocked his fifty-fifth four-bagger in the fifth inning of the first game. New York took both games by a good margin, 10-6 and 13-5. Bob Meusel, in the same game, pounded out his twenty-third circuit clout. He is runner-up to Ruth in the home-run race.

TODAY'S THOUGHT I knew a very wise man that believed if a man were permitted to make all the ballads, he need not care who should make the laws of a nation.

Fletcher of Saltoun.

THE NEW WORLD COURT

One of the most cheering pieces of news to come from the other side in a long while is the election of John Basset Moore to the World Court of International Justice. Dr. Moore is a lawyer of world-wide fame, respected by the lawyers of every nation, and a really great jurist. For many years professor of International Law at Columbia University, for a time counsellor to the State Department, he is perhaps best known for his monumental "Digest of International Law," a work more frequently consulted than any other by the leading lawyers of the world. His works on international arbitration are likewise considered as high authority.

The High Court of Justice of which he is to be beyond question the most eminent member, is the outcome of one of the provisions of the League of Nations. A commission of ten jurists of international reputation was appointed, to draft a plan, and it will be remembered that Elihu Root was of the number and performed distinguished service. Compulsory arbitration was a part of the plan recommended by the Commission, but the Council of the League of Nations decided against it. The balance of the commission's plan was accepted, but the omission to provide for means of enforcing the decisions of the Court drew the teeth of the decrees it might render, and left it practically without power save that of recommendation.

The court is to consist of eleven judges and four deputy judges, which may be increased with the approval of the Council to fifteen and six, respectively. Nine judges constitute a quorum; decisions to be rendered by majority vote. Provision is also made that no country or allied group will have a majority of the court. Sessions are to be held annually at the Hague, beginning June 15, next.

It will be interesting to watch the character and course of the first cases to come before the Court. It has jurisdiction over disputes that may arise between members of the League of Nations relating to the provisions of the treaty of Versailles in respect to labor, transit, and communications. Also it is to have arbitral jurisdiction over differences between nations, whether League members or not, that choose to submit their disagreements that might result in war.

Considering the present temper of the world, it would not be surprising to see the Hague Court resorted to in more than one instance. This, perhaps, in deference to the exalted character of the jurists on the bench, rather than confidence in the enforcement of its decrees.

Virginians are interested in the appointment of Dr. Moore, because he is an alumnus of the University of Virginia.

The Big Town Round-Up
Story by Wm. McGod Raine
Directed by Lynn F. Reynolds

The romance of a brawny ranchman and a society belle.

A picture with the speed of light and the sure-fire interest of a government bond.

Story of a cowpuncher who makes the big city sit up and take notice.

A romance in which Mix plays a long game of hide-and-seek with Death.

In which brain and brawn and bravery battle for a bride.

One man against many—that's Mix in his latest.

A drama in which romance, born on the plains, reaches full growth in the big city.

He rounded up cattle on the ranch, but rounded up thugs in the town.

PERPETUAL MOTION IN 1813.

The ingenious Mr. Perkins, of Newburyport, was so well convinced, from reflection that the pretended discovery of the principle of perpetual motion by Mr. Redheffer, of Philadelphia, was an error or was an imposition, that he bet $5000 in support of that opinion. The result has been in his favor. After a reasonable time for experiment, his opponent acknowledges he has lost, and the money will be paid.

The purchaser of Mr. R's patent was the losing party to the bet. It is reported Mr. R. has absented himself from Philadelphia.

RICHMOND—TOM MIX

Tom Mix is a screen star who never lacks an audience. His name has come to be a guarantee of entertainment of the most satisfying sort. There may be differences of opinion concerning the value of the story presented, but never concerning the quality of Mix's work. This daredevil Fox star is scheduled to open at the Richmond Theatre today, in "The Big Town Round Up."

At the Ingomar H. B. Warner will be seen in "Market of Vain Desire," also Chapter 13, of "The Yellow Arm" will be shown.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and hauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodsons Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless pleasant and safe to give to children: they like it.

Your bills are dated the day they are mailed. Your bills are mailed so as to reach you on the day they're dated. You then have ten full days from date of bill in which to take the cash discount. If the bills are late in coming, examine your name and address and notify us of any error. The delay may be in the mail delivery on this account.

As soon as the bill arrives, note the day on which the discount expires and mark a date two days ahead on your calendar. This will give you ample time to make payment, whether you mail in your check or come in person to the office.

THE FOREHEAD

((For The Gazette)

A projecting forehead indicates self will.

A square forehead indicates high-mindedness.

A small forehead indicates incapacity to learn.

A short forehead, with prominent brows, belongs to the man of action; high, well developed temples to the man of thought.

A forehead square on the temples and retreating into the hair on either side is a sign of retentive memory and excellent judgment.

A perpendicular, flat forehead, with wrinkleless skin stretched tightly across it, may be briefly dismissed as the forehead of the fool.

A short forehead, compressed, with prominenet eye cavities and thick straight brows, square and receding on the temples, indicates a judge of character or circumstances, with quickness and accuracy.

The physiognamy of the forehead is seen in the form of the frontal bone, its height and proportion, regularity or irregularity; this marks the disposition and measure of our faculties, our fashion or thinking and feeling.

my opinion, some more generous response, but so far every advance has been made by us.

"On your part you have not come to meet us by a single step, but have merely reiterated in phrases of emphatic challenge the letter and spirit of your original claim.

"I am, yours faithfully,

"LLOYD GEORGE."

The letter of de Valera which led to Lloyd George's reply breaking off negotiations, as made public in Dublin, follows:

"We are unhesitating in declaring our willingness 'to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire can best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations.'

"Our readiness to contemplate such an association was indicated in our letter of August 10. We have accordingly summoned the Dail that we may submit to it for ratification the names of the representatives it is our intention to propose. We hope that these representatives will find it possible to be at Inverness on the date you suggest, September 20.

"In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our position is and can only be as we have defined it throughout this correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or powers to act on behalf of our people."

Do It Now!

So many coal consumers have delayed putting in their Winter coal this season that there will be an urgent demand when the weather gets cold which will make it impossible for the mines to produce, the railroads to haul or the dealer to handle all orders as satisfactorily as the trade will want.

It is our advice to all consumers to enter their order now and have their coal put in as promptly as possible.

Prepare for the Moult

Feathers are largely protein, so moulting hens need extra protein. Grains are lacking in this important element.

Purina Chicken Chowder

supplies feather-making protein which helps a hen through the moult and increases her fall and winter egg production. Put your hens in laying condition by feeding more Purina Chicken Chowder in preparation for and during the moult.

DYED HER DRAPERIES AND A FADED SKIRT

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies, even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.
